Denver: The BTI Consulting Group has recognized Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell (WTO) among 31 Midsize Heavyweight law firms.

"Clients report these firms bring industry understanding and the most important factor–an unfailing commitment to help," states the report.

WTO Chairman Mike O'Donnell emphasizes this point: "Now more than ever, every lawyer at WTO is working to support our clients and offer solutions to problems. We are a community."

According to BTI, "the secret is in the client service. These firms are uber-responsive, dig deep, hard, and fast to find the answers. Always quick to embrace new approaches to billing and problems, these firms make sure clients always know who is accountable for their work and the relationship."

BTI is unique among rankings directories because it relies solely on client interviews to inform its listings. "Clients–of their own volition–point to [these] midsize firms as bringing the same level of confidence and reliability as the big firms," the report states.

Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell lawyers have taken more than 1,300 trials, arbitrations, and appeals to verdict, award, or opinion in 45 states and Washington, D.C., with exceptional results for our clients. Established in 1998, WTO currently numbers more than 110 lawyers. The firm represents sophisticated clients in high-stakes civil trials, appeals, and related litigation ranging from complex commercial to class actions to multidistrict litigation.
