Presenter, "Ethical Issues in Internal Investigations, Litigation Management in a New York Minute - 2015 Edition," The Network of Trial Law Firms, New York, NY, (August 7, 2015).

Presentations
Aug 7, 2015

Multiple ethical issues emerge throughout internal investigations that must be considered by in-house and outside counsel. These include who is the client; whether in-house counsel or outside counsel should conduct the investigation; joint representations; disclosures in employee interviews; and whether to self report to the government. The presentation is geared to ethical issues faced by in-house and outside counsel as they navigate through the investigation.
