Obtained dismissal of claims against a manufacturer of high-end motorcycle parts in a product liability case in federal court in Colorado. Following dismissal of plaintiff's claims, our client was awarded over $1 million on its counterclaim of payments owed.

WTO represented Thiessen Products, a California corporation that manufactures motorcycle components and tools for Harley-Davidson and other high-end motorcycles. A Colorado company sued Thiessen for over $3 million, claiming that Thiessen's parts were defective. The U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado dismissed the plaintiff's claims and, after the trial, awarded WTO's client over $1 million on its counterclaim for nonpayment on those same parts.
