Wheeler Trigg
O'Donnell

Obtained a preliminary injunction enforcing WTO's client's non-competition agreement with a former employee after a two-day hearing in Jefferson County, Colorado.

2011

On December 30, 2011, the Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell trial team of Ray Martin and Tammy Westerberg obtained a preliminary injunction enforcing its client's non-competition agreement with a former employee. The former employee had resigned and almost immediately formed a competing business in breach of his contractual obligations. After a two-day hearing, a judge in Jefferson County enjoined the defendant from competing within a 100-mile radius of Denver and Avon, Colorado and awarded attorney's fees to WTO's client.

Related Professionals

Raymond W. Martin
Partner

Related Practices

Employment/Class Actions

© 2026 Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP. All Rights Reserved