303.244.1964

Christian Lee is one of WTO's lead eDiscovery attorneys, specializing in guiding clients and legal teams in navigating discovery obligations, mitigating risk and enhancing efficiency in high-stakes litigation and investigations. His practice encompasses all phases of eDiscovery including counseling on discovery-related legal issues, litigation strategy, information governance practices, and data privacy issues. He integrates advanced technologies and AI-enabled workflows aligned with client legal and business objectives to improve quality, consistency and cost-effectiveness.

Christian also advises on the design and operation of enterprise eDiscovery programs, including technology strategy, vendor management, budgeting, metrics, and global discovery workflows, to improve defensibility and drive more favorable legal outcomes. In addition, he manages large cross-functional case teams across multiple matters, offers guidance on evolving legal and technology developments, implements client-focused process improvements, and presents CLEs on various eDiscovery topics.

Christian is a Certified E-Discovery Specialist (CEDS) through the Association of Certified E-Discovery Specialists as well as a Certified Information Privacy Professional/United States and Europe (CIPP/US and CIPP/E) and Artificial Intelligence Governance Professional (AIGP) through the International Association of Privacy Professionals.

Prior to joining WTO, he served at an AmLaw 50 firm in New York.
