John R. "Jack" Trigg and Malcolm E. Wheeler, name directors at the Denver trial law firm Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell, have been selected by their peers from around the world to be listed in the Product Liability section of the 2002 edition of Who'sWhoLegal: The International Who's Who of Business Lawyers.

The list is published by London-based Law Business Research Ltd., and is available in hardcover and online at www.whoswholegal.com. It is not possible to "buy" your way onto this list; the publication relies solely on peer nomination and selection.

The Product Liability section includes only six lawyers from Colorado, and two out of the six practice at this law firm. Wheeler and Trigg earned their international reputations representing Fortune 100 clients like Ford Motor Co., Pfizer Inc and Whirlpool.
