DENVER: Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell is pleased to welcome associates Elliott Hood, Marissa Ronk, and Michael Mulvania to the firm.

Elliott Hood will focus his legal practice on complex commercial, insurance and class action litigation. He received his J.D. from Northwestern University School of Law.

Hood served as a law clerk on Denver District Court's criminal docket and the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit in Oklahoma City. Prior to law school, Hood was a Corps Member and fifth-grade teacher with Teach for America in Las Vegas and the director of individual giving for TFA in Chicago.

Marissa Ronk will focus her legal practice on complex commercial litigation, class actions and product liability defense. She received her J.D. in 2011 from Harvard Law School, where she was a Dean's Scholar in First Amendment Law.

After law school, Ronk clerked in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin. From there she was a litigation associate at Winston & Strawn's Chicago office
