Denver: Habib Nasrullah, a partner with the national civil litigation firm Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP (WTO), has been named a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers (ACTL). Fellowship in the ACTL is by invitation only, and membership will never exceed 1% of the total lawyer population of any state. The ACTL is the preeminent professional organization for trial lawyers in the United States.

"Habib exemplifies everything the ACTL represents: 'the very highest standards of trial advocacy, ethical conduct, integrity, professionalism and collegiality,'" said Michael O'Donnell, WTO Chairman and ACTL Fellow and Regent for the Tenth Circuit. "Habib is an elegant trial lawyer, a resourceful litigator, and most importantly, a human being of exceptional warmth and character."

With the addition of Nasrullah, seven WTO partners are ACTL Fellows. Nasrullah joins O'Donnell and Scott Barker, Hugh Gottschalk, Kevin Kuhn, Jack Trigg, and Malcolm Wheeler.

Nasrullah represents major clients in high-profile, high-stakes litigation involving mass torts and product liability claims.
